Our greatest glory is not in never falling, but in rising every time we fall.

Confucius

DRAFT COURSEWORK ESSAY

Proofreading &

Peer Evaluation I: Title, Introduction and Conclusion

Lancaster University College at Beijing Jiaotong University

PROOFREADING: Grammatical, lexical and stylistic errors

Proofreading means reading and correcting small errors in your work which may make it more difficult for the reader to understand what you want to say.

1. Note down the type of error that has been made in each of the following sentences (see word cloud above) Each sentence has a different kind of error.
2. Amend the error.

Example:

- After the lecture there was an opportunity for ~~unofficial.~~ wrong word discussion

a) Cities pollute the atmosphere disproportionately to the amount ……. of people who inhabit them. Correction: …….

b) Both Mandarin and Spanish are enjoying ……..…… worldwide popularity in recent years. Correction: …….

c) Pervious …… experience can sometimes give researchers more opportunities. Correction: …….

d) In this research, the effect …… of computer anxiety and internet attitudes on computer self-efficacy were investigated. Correction: …….

e) Translating is an interpretive act resulting in a certain lost ……. of meaning (Nes, 2021). Correction: …….

f) The majority of scientific journals uses …….. blinded peer review to make acceptance decisions. Correction: …….

g) Human young are dependent on adults for a pretty…… long period. Correction: …….

h) A fifth Google engineer has claimed she was fired in retaliation by ……. protected workplace activism. Correction: …….

i) Physical exercise is beneficial to cognition, this highlights the importance of promoting physical activity across the lifespan. …….. Correction: …….

j) A recent study found that students who regarded themselves as "early risers" tended to be more punctual for class. (Werner, 2022) ……..… Correction: ……

k) In spite of that CSR has been a pressing concern for business for several decades, there is no international consensus. …….. Correction: …….

PEER EVALUATION OF COURSEWORK ESSAY INTRODUCTION & CONCLUSION

Evaluate your partner's title, introduction & Conclusion: Name of evaluator: ……..…..…….

TITLE OF ESSAY: _____

TITLE: Put a tick or cross in the relevant box:

ESSAY TITLE	✗ / ✓
The essay title refers to problem(s), solutions and an evaluation
I fully understand the essay title
Obscure, specialist or ambiguous terms are explained in the essay's introduction

INTRODUCTION: LANGUAGE AND STRUCTURE: Put a tick or cross in the relevant box:

INTRODUCTION	✗ / ✓
The first sentence gives appropriate background information
The student continues by giving more specific information that shows the importance/relevance of the topic
The student has included a definition or limitation (optional)
The thesis statement provides a clear outline of the main body of the essay and paraphrases the title where appropriate
The thesis statement has not copied all the words in the title
The thesis statement is no more than one or two sentences long and occurs at the end of the introduction
No irrelevant details are given

CONCLUSION: LANGUAGE AND STRUCTURE: Put a tick or cross in the relevant box:

CONCLUSION	✘ / ✓
The conclusion begins with the words: In conclusion, to conclude, in summary, or to sum up
A brief summary has been offered of the main problem(s) solutions and evaluation
No new information is given in the summary
The student's opinion(s) is/are given
A recommendation, prediction or solution is included at the end of the conclusion
No irrelevant details are given

ACADEMIC STYLE

a) Scan the conclusion and underline examples of any of the following informal vocabulary:

maybe, get, as we all know, a lot, thing, every coin has two sides, last but not least, what is more, nowadays, more and more, or as we all know, besides, I, you, we, us, our, my, or your

b) Underline any other vocabulary you consider inappropriate or informal.

c) Underline any contractions *(*for example: can't, it's, won't, couldn't, don't, and didn't).

PEER EVALUATION OF INTRODUCTION AND CONCLUSION

GRAMMAR/LEXIS

1. Try to find some grammatical/lexical errors in your partner's introduction and conclusion. You should indicate which type of error has been made using comments (and track changes if needed). You may wish to use the symbols or abbreviations in the table below. Here is an example of a comment (Ctrl + click on 'esential' to see a brief video clip of the creation of a comment):

It is esential to gain a high-level degree…

2. Note how many errors occur in the table below:

TYPE OF ERROR	Number	TYPE OF ERROR	Number
ww = wrong word		prep = wrong preposition
number = word should be singular or plural?		art = article should be changed or deleted tense = wrong tense		vf = wrong form of verb
punct. = wrong punctuation		wf = wrong form of word informal = informal word used		^ = word missing
/ = unnecessary word		sp = wrong spelling
wo = wrong word order		? = meaning unclear
cs = comma splice run-on = run-on sentence		coll = these words do not collocate
sf = sentence fragment		? = meaning unclear

3. When you have completed the evaluation, please return the document to Student 1

STUDENT 1: FINAL DRAFT OF INTRODUCTION AND CONCLUSION

1. Review the evaluation made by Student 2.

2. Further review the introduction and conclusion in Marking Mate:

   http://www.readingandwritingtools.com/mm/markingmate.html

3. Based on the evaluation of your partner and recommendations made by Marking Mate, you should now improve the introduction and conclusion of your essay