CNEAP 401 COURSEWORK ESSAY TASK SHEET: Semester 1, 2025

TOPIC

You are going to write a problem-solution essay on a topic in your own subject area.

You should examine a problem in your subject area and propose possible solutions supported by evidence. The solutions should then be evaluated. You must think of your own topic, your own title and conduct all the research yourself.

SPECIFIC REQUIREMENTS

- The coursework essay should be submitted as a Word document (No PDFs please).
- An appropriate academic style and structure should be used.
- Your essay must be original work which is not copied in whole or in part from another source.
- You should include a cover page at the beginning of the document, showing your Chinese name, English name, student number, class number and date.
- The essay should be 1000 - 1,200 words in length, excluding the cover page and reference list.
- The introduction must include background information, more specific information to show the importance of the topic and a thesis statement. You may wish to give a limitation or definition, and any relevant citation(s).
- You must include a suitable thesis statement which corresponds to the title of the assignment and paraphrases words where appropriate from the title.
- Each paragraph must have a suitable topic sentence.
- In the main body of the essay, you should explain the problem, indicate solutions and evaluate them.
- The essay must be written for an average, educated reader, not a specialist. Technical or specialist vocabulary must therefore be explained.
- The conclusion must summarise the problem(s), solutions and evaluation; you should offer a recommendation, prediction or implication at the end of your conclusion.
- You must paraphrase and summarise source material appropriately rather than quoting excessively. A small amount of quoting (no more than 10% of your text) is permitted.
- Plagiarism will be penalised.
- You should have at least 6 references to sources (written or spoken in the English language) in your reference list at the end of your essay. At least 4 of these references must be journal articles.
- Each reference in your reference list must have a corresponding citation, and vice-versa.
